I'm enjoying these table remakes. Zaccaria is probably the most impressive pinball simulation right now. And the customisation options are through the roof.

This is a good table, but the designers still have a bit of a problem making tables with great flow, you know, that thing that makes Medieval Madness or Monster Bash being so amazing. I think the issue is that ramps and lanes are generally a bit narrow and that makes the table overly technical.

It's still loads of fun, and i love the look and theme of this table.
